

CIRIEC (International Centre of Research and Information on the Public, Social and Cooperative Economy) is a non-governmental international scientific organization.

Its objectives are to undertake and promote the collection of information, scientific research, and the publication of works on economic sectors and activities oriented towards the service of the general and collective interest.

CIRIEC has an original feature since it develops activities of interest for both managers and researchers active in serving the general or collective interest. CIRIEC aims at being an international meeting point and a locus for research, reflection and network.

An international network

CIRIEC coordinates a worldwide network of researchers working in the fields of public, social and cooperative economics, bringing together more than 750 experts from over 60 countries.

In terms of national sections and members, CIRIEC covers 21 countries: Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cyprus, France, Germany, Ireland, Japan, Mexico, Poland, Portugal, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Tunisia, Turkey and Venezuela.

Every year, more than 50 events are organized by CIRIEC and its members, providing a space for scientific debate open to all.

A network that stands out by:

Its transversal focus on the general and collective interest: CIRIEC benefits from a dual expertise (Public Enterprises/ Public Services & Social and Cooperative Economy), outside the “mainstream” economy.

Its scientific potential

CIRIEC runs a multidisciplinary scientific network combining research capacities, whether theoretical or empirical, covering a wide range of sectors.

Its network of people

where interpersonal relationships and exchanges predominate. A network offering a plural type of membership (researchers and experts, managers and leaders of organizations, trade unionists, civil servants, public and private decision-makers, etc.), allowing mutual enrichments.

Its capacity of action

through the publication of research results and public debates; CIRIEC's expertise and representativeness being recognized by various stakeholders. .

Its concern for societal relevance and international action
